CUSTOMS ESTABLISHMENT.

No. 1559-2503-14.

Madras, the 8th October 1919.

Resolution.—The Government of India have had under consideration a proposal to substitute a time-scale of pay in the Imperial Customs Department for the existing system of graded salaries. In a small service, such as the Imperial Customs Department, recruitment has hitherto been effected by employing men whose pay was based on a fixed scale based upon the normal annual increase or equality rate. The result of irregular recruitment is inequality in promotion, and the principle of a time scale of pay has therefore been adopted in recent years in several services possessing small cadres. The Imperial Customs Department has been in existence for seven years only, but the Government of India have observed that, under the existing graded system, the promotion of the junior men is already becoming unsatisfactory, and that of future recruits is likely to be seriously retarded. The following scheme was accordingly submitted to His Majesty's Secretary of State for India, and has been approved by him in a despatch which was received on the 17th May 1919.

5. The Imperial Customs Service at present consists of 25 appointments divided into nine classes as shown below:—

Appointments	No.	Pay per annum without emoluments	Local allowances admissible when employed at Cochin, Bombay, or Singapore.
		Rs.	Rs.
Collectors:—
Class I	1	3,500	100	Three of the Collectors are reserved for members of the Indian Civil Service; and no particular appointment is reserved for these officers.
Class II	1	2,500	100
Class III	1	2,500	100
Total	3
Assistant Collectors:—
Class I	2	1,400	75	One appointment in each of these three classes is reserved for members of the Indian Civil Service.
Class II	2	1,100	75
Class III	2	800	75
Class IV	4	600	75

- 3 Collectors, class III, on Rs. 2,500 a month each.

3. With regard to the five administrative appointments of Collector, it is considered that no change in the existing grading is necessary or advisable. As at present, all appointments in the Collector's grade, whether acting or permanent, will be made by election, and seniority will not give any Assistant Collector a claim to a Collectorship; and, once the rank of Collector is attained, Civilian and non-Civilian will be on the same footing for the purpose of promotion. Members of the Indian Civil Service of four or five years' standing will, as at present, ordinarily be selected to fill the

No. 1453.—Under section 25 of the Madras Steam-boilers and Prime-movers Act, 1880, the Governor in Council is pleased to make the following additions to and alterations in the rules issued under the said Act and published at pages 215 to 234 of Part I-A of the Port St. George Gazette, dated 6th April 1910, as modified by notification No. 2003 published at page 743 of Part I-A of the Port St. George Gazette, dated 15th December 1911:—

(1) The following new rules 5-A and 5-B shall form Part II of the rules, the existing Part II being numbered Part III:—

PART II.

"Method of preparation of boilers for examination and the fee leviable for non-compliance.

"Rule 5-A.—The examination of boilers is of two kinds:—

"(a) Complete examination.—When a license granted under section 7 of the Act is about to expire or when it has been revoked or suspended under section 11 of the Act and the owner requires renewal thereof, a thorough examination of the boiler inside and outside shall be made by one of the Inspectors in Person. The date and hour at which he will examine a boiler shall be notified by the Inspector to the owner or user and it must be prepared before-hand for inspection in accordance with the printed instructions which will accompany the notification. There will be days that the boiler first, tubes and furnace must be swept clean; that the boiler must be empty, cool, clean inside and outside; that the fire bars, burners and bridges, blow off, water gauges, test cocks, safety and main steam stop valves must be removed; and that the requirements of rule 11 must also be met.

"(b) Partial examination.—A partial examination may be made at any time for the purpose of ascertaining whether a certificate should be suspended or revoked under section 11 of the Act.

"Rule 5-B.—The Senior Inspector shall give not less than four days' notice in the case of Madras City and fourteen days' notice in the case of other areas when a complete examination of any boiler is to take place. He shall at the same time warn the owner or user that if the boiler is not prepared agreeably to the printed instructions issued according to rule 5-A by the time and date of examination, no examination will be made until these requirements are met and that if a further visit is then necessitated for the examination of the boiler, the owner or user shall pay a fee of Rs. 50."

"(2) For the second paragraph under "stays" in rule 30, the following shall be substituted:—

"Dished or conical ends.—The conical dished ends of cylindrical boilers having radii equal to two-thirds or not more than the diameter of the shell to which they are attached, provided the plates are dished with suitable dies by machine, shall be allowed a calculated tensile stress of 4,000 lbs. per square inch.

"The radii of the corners of flanges should not be less than one-eighth the radii of the corner.

"In the case of vertical boilers the use of conical or dished crown plates to the shell and furnace should be discouraged. Hemispherical crown plates should, preferably, be fitted.

"Dished plates must not be hammered or flanged. All plates that have been dished or flanged should be annealed.

"The thickness of dished ends should never be less than that of the shell to which they are attached.

"Dished ends the radii of which exceed the diameter of the shell but are theoretically equal to the pressure treated when considered as portions of spheres should be stayed, such stays being properly distributed. The stays when solid may have a nominal stress of 18,000 lbs. per square inch of net section. Stay tubes made of steel may be allowed a stress not exceeding 7,500 lbs. per square inch of net section, provided their net section is in no case less than one-quarter of an inch.

"Lamellaires or Cornish boilers fitted with wrought steel dished ends, the radii of which are equal to one or to a maximum of one and a half the diameter of the boilers, may have a calculated tensile stress of 2,000 lbs. per square inch on the concave side only of the dished ends when corrugated lengths are fitted to the fire and furnace tubes, and 11,000 lbs. per square inch when there are no corrugated lengths in the furnace and fire tubes.

"The tensile strength of plates used in the construction of dished ends should not be less than 54 or more than 28 tons per square inch with an elongation of not less than 20 per cent. in a length of 10 inches."

"(3) In line 2 of rule 40, the words 'not less than 35 inches' shall be substituted for the word 'secondary' and at the end of paragraph 3 of this rule the following sentence shall be added:—

"Furnaces less than thirty-eight inches diameter shall in every respect comply to the foregoing and to the restrictions following: except that the radius of the flange on the water side shall not be less than one inch, the depth of the flange from the water side shall be 3½ inch, the depth of the ring between the flange 2½ inches and the diameter of the rivet shall not be less than the thickness of the plate plus one-quarter inch."

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR THE PRIMA-VERBA TEST.

The following instructions are published in order that candidates may know what is expected of them in this test—

Instructions to candidates.

The object of a prima-verbis test is that any one who has not time to read the original correspondence may by reading the précis, be put in possession of all the leading features of what passed.

3. The candidate should begin by reading the whole of the correspondence carefully through without writing anything, so that he may clearly understand what passed and be in a position to decide what are the main heads under which the important facts should be arranged. He should then read through the paper again marking what is important.

4. The précis should begin with a brief and laud introduction to the original under treatment. This should be followed by a summary in the past tense containing a brief and clear statement of the contents of the correspondence, and in the order of the papers not even necessarily in chronological order, but in logical order. An abstract of every paper in the correspondence or a list of its contents is not a précis.

5. The merits of a précis are—

- (1) to include all that is important in the correspondence and nothing that is unimportant;
- (2) to present this in a readable and concise shape, expressed as intelligibly and distinctly as possible;
- (3) to be as brief as is compatible with completeness and clearness;
- (4) to present a clearly accurate and logically connected statement of the contents of the correspondence.

No candidate can expect to pass who omits any one of the more important points; marks will be deducted if unimportant points are included or if those are repeated unnecessarily; e.g., it is not ordinarily necessary to give the date of every paper in the correspondence and the full name and designation of the writer in respect of every letter; and if a fact is repeated in different papers it need not generally be noted more than once in the précis.

6. Grammar, spelling, style and handwriting will be considered in assigning marks; but it must be remembered that mere correctness or correctness will not compensate for the lack of insight into the presentation of the facts of the correspondence.
